

Contract for Training Services

with

Stick & Rudder Aviation (a dba of Stick & Rudder Aviation, LLC)

Preamble

You are about to undertake serious, professional, and structured flight training. During your training, you will be challenged and questioned. Stick & Rudder Aviation instructors will make every effort to keep the training atmosphere fun and fulfilling.

All aspects, within our lesson plan (published on our web site), will be covered regardless of the degree of training you require.

Regardless of your Pilot licensing or level of experience - Stick & Rudder Aviation instructors will remain the Pilot-In-Command (PIC) throughout your training. If at anytime you feel concerned for your safety, we expect you to query the instructor for further explanation, AND immediately ask to stop the maneuver.

You will be training - in a responsive airplane (at precise airspeeds), with varied weather conditions, in a new environment, and with diverse topography - for which you may be quite unfamiliar. Please understand, your instructor has the experience and skills in these conditions and areas - please respectfully trust their judgement.

Deposit

Please understand - as our training programs are all several days to weeks of undivided attention towards your training needs. A last-minute cancellation can leave a large hole in our training schedule that can not be filled at the last-minute (as the majority of our clients come from out-of-the-state and country).

Therefore, a deposit is required to reserve a training window on our schedule.

Once we receive your deposit - we will send you a statement of the deposit on account, and a confirmation of your reserved dates.

We require a $500 deposit for every week you reserve on our schedule.

Please review and include a signed copy of our "Contract for Training Services" with your deposit. A link to a printable copy is at the bottom of our web site "pricing" tab.

Please send a check and contract to:

Cancellations

Any change in your commitment for the reserved training window - Stick & Rudder Aviation must be notified in writing by Email.

The deposit is NON-refundable, if you cancel within 30 days of your reservation.

Should circumstances arise that you must cancel, we will then hold your deposit on account for 6 months in the hopes you will reschedule your training. Once you start your training, the deposit will be used towards your training balance.

Scheduling

Please Email us with your preferred dates FIRST - as our training schedule is far too dynamic and complicated for us to just give you our availability. Once we compare your preferred dates with our training schedule - we will Email you an acknowledgement that your preferred dates will work OR options around your preferred dates.

As a courtesy, your acknowledged training dates will be reserved for you for 7 days - waiting for your deposit.

If we do not receive your deposit - your dates will be opened back up to others.

Payments

During your training you will be invoiced once per week, or within a couple days of the end of your training (which ever comes sooner).

As there will most likely be a balance due at the end of your training - you will be invoiced by Email. If needed, a hard copy can be delivered to your hotel.

We expect the final payment, before you return home, via a check or credit card. If you choose to use a credit card - the processing fee we are charged (of 2.75%), will be added to your charge.

Payment is due immediately upon receipt of our invoice.

Payments not received within 10 days of your Emailed invoice date - will accrue finance charges based @ 20% (annually).
